BRANCH MEETING – December 10, 2022 11:30 AM – ELK’S LODGE

Stories to Recapture and Inspire

December is a month of wonder and magic. As people start anticipating winter vacations and time with loved ones, the concern for work is eased, making way for a chance to breathe more deeply and see the world through snow globes and the wide eyes of little children, so what could be better than to recount these narratives of joy? This year, we hope to bring into focus some of those special times through the stories of our own members in our “Writing is Fun” section of AAUW. To add to this unique treat, we have asked Jauhar Basrai to come back and accompany these stories with his own music. He is a 2014 graduate of UC Irvine who works in Computer Science, but listening to Jazz and working with musical improvisation is a second love. Luckily, he is available and will be our special guest.

After the presentation of the “Writing is Fun” stories, we will have Table Talks to share our own remembrances with those we are sitting with in regards to the season’s many holidays across the spectrum, whether it be Hanukkah, Kwanzaa, Las Posadas, St. Lucy’s Day, Christmas, Three Kings Day, New Year’s Day, or Chinese New Year. It will allow us the chance for connection with each other, to learn something new, and maybe even to experience the season’s magic!

One more thing, a table of collected photos taken by Colleen Tan or of her with her many AAUW friends over the years will be set up for us to look at and take if we are so inclined. Colleen was a dedicated AAUW member who photographed many meetings and events while she was with us. Her photos are a way to look back on her work and to remember those wonderful times she captured for us. Please join us at The Whittier Elks Lodge on December 10th for the chance to share and celebrate the season!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WELCOME to December and the holiday season for people of many creeds and religions. May you enjoy the season to the best of your abilities with your immediate and extended family, friends, and colleagues. I have returned from my Europe vacation (October 21, 2022, see my spotlight share to learn more about that experience).

AAUW-CA and AAUW are on YouTube! AAUW-CA recently announced that they hit a milestone of 100 subscribers! You too can subscribe and have easy access to AAUW and AAUW-CA webinars and informative videos. Access the site by copying the link below and pasting it into the browser you use (Safari, Mozilla/Firefox, Google, etc.) and see what this channel has to offer.

AAUW-CA Tech Peer Group - The AAUW-CA Communication Committee kicked off this new group with lots of participation this past October 25, 2022, and was hosted by committee member, and current former chair, Tracey Clark. It was formed to give the tech people in the branches a chance to learn about and share tech and software tips and challenges.

GWA-AAUW needs more people to create and support our evolving tech needs. For those of you who are interested in supporting our branch in areas such as communications, social media, online activities, or document sharing, this could be the group for you. The next meeting is on December 6, 2022, at 6:00 PM via Zoom. Paula Ocampo and I will be there and hopefully, other leaders and members from GWA. The December meeting includes a presentation by Cynthia Clark, Tech Peer Group member, followed by Q&A participation. It will cover a variety of topics including Google docs, shared folders, uploading, editing vs comments, suggestions, what access you can give others, Google sheets, how to download to Excel, and more! Don't be intimidated, just ask questions along the way. It can be empowering to learn bit by bit and practice these new tech skills. We learned ZOOM out of need and it has helped tremendously.

If you are interested, please send an email to Tracey Clark at ttermath@sbcglobal.net .

Subject: Request to join Tech Peer Group

In your email state your name, branch, email, and request they add you to the Tech Peer Group email list for the meeting on December 6, 2022.

WOMEN WITH A WHY - LET'S GROW!

Can you share why you are an AAUW member in a succinct and joyful way? Where do we find new members? It could be anywhere, in line at Rite Aid, at the DMV, getting to know others at a farmer's market or a health club group, etc. The key is enthusiastically sharing how AAUW gives your life purpose and meaning. Do you have the elevator speech down (a short 2-3-minute sharing of what AAUW is and does)? Meet and Greet is coming up on January 21, 2023. (See Sharon Heck's Membership article). Come join us with invitees in hand to attend. Let's grow and rejuvenate!

All the best this holiday season, Nadine Wilcox, 2022-23 President

AAUW FUND

It's the season of giving. The deadline for your tax-deductible contribution to AAUW Fund for 2022 is December 31. The easiest way to donate is online at aauw-ca.org. Your donation can also be sent to our treasurer, Kay Clark, 11915 Inez St.#8, Whittier 90605.

The AAUW Fund Events featuring talks by the AAUW Fellows and Grant Recipients were held on 4 occasions in October and November. There's good news for those who were not able to attend any or all of the events as they are all recorded. Go to aauw-ca.org. Scroll down to AAUW 2022 Fund Events. Click on "Read More". There you will see a tab to download any or all of the events that will be shown on YouTube. Free of charge! At a time convenient for you!

Whether or not you have time to view the events, you can read on the website short biographies of each of the speakers. In doing so you will see that the recipients are from diverse backgrounds, different countries, and various academic fields. It is so impressive to see all the work that these scholars have pursued and to see how the money from AAUW Fund is used. They are awesome.

It is also time for our members to nominate members for the Named Gift Honoree Award given each year to those members who have given outstanding service to AAUW. See the application on page 5. Please return it to Dolores Seidman by December 10, in person at a meeting or by U.S. mail.

PUBLIC POLICY

Now we can all breathe a sigh of relief! The election is finally over and no more irritating ads! We can be grateful that the Right to Reproductive Freedom has been safely incorporated into the Constitution in California as well as in Michigan and Vermont. Kansas and Kentucky rejected measures to end the state constitutional right to abortion. In Montana, voters rejected a measure to require medical care be given to any fetus born alive, and failure to do so would result in prosecution.

In addition, we can celebrate that children in our schools will be given more arts and music experiences from dedicated teachers due to the passage of Proposition 28. Our young people will also be less likely to become addicted to nicotine now that the sale of flavored tobacco products is banned, thanks to Prop. 31.

From national AAUW: Americans showed up in record numbers at the polls across race, gender, and age, electing a historically diverse slate of candidates. Glass ceilings were broken in governors' houses across the country as 12 women won that office—a new record. Candidates and soon-to-be-sworn-in elected officials alike were more diverse than ever, with women, people of color, young leaders, and LGBTQ+ people taking center stage. In addition, we were pleased to see that many voters came out in support of candidates who align with AAUW's policy priorities on the economy, education, and health care—with a focus on abortion rights.

On the Congressional level, AAUW is asking us to learn more about women's Pay Equality and support stronger accountability on college campuses with respect to sexual violence.

- The final two Equal Pay Days of the year are coming up: Native Women's Equal Pay Day on November 30, and Latina's Equal Pay Day on December 8. Native women and Latinas are paid, respectively, 50 cents and 49 cents for every dollar paid to white men. Engage with us on social media to urge your senators to pass the Paycheck Fairness Act and support pay equity for all!
- Last month, the AAUW-endorsed Campus Accountability and Safety Act (CASA) was introduced in Congress. The bill (H.R.9316/S.5047) would combat sexual violence on college campuses, provide resources for survivors, and more.

Happy Holidays to all! Celebrate and enjoy your families and friends with your treasured rituals and traditions.

Margo Reeg, Public Policy chair

DIVERSITY, EQUITY, INCLUSION

Recently, the State DEI Committee held a chat for DEI officers from each branch. A panel, comprised of national officers, answered questions from Stormy Miller Sabia, AAUW California DEI chair. The panel, Julia Brown, AAUW National Board of Directors Chair, and Melissa La Duke, AAUW DEI Chair, addressed DEI issues facing branches.

Questions included: How to engage lack of engagement or issues of DEI? How to address the lack of diversity within a branch membership? How can we learn all of this? These questions and the panels' answers will appear in future branch newsletter articles.

As a first step, it was suggested that branches ensure AAUW programs address and reflect issues of intersectionality. What exactly is intersectionality?

Intersectionality is the complex, cumulative way in which the effects of multiple forms of discrimination (such as racism, sexism, and classism) combine, overlap or intersect especially in experiences.

Equal pay is an example of the influence of intersectionality. Men and women are paid unequally for equal work. But moms or Latinas may make even less than the 82 cents women make for every dollar a white man makes. Other influences than just being a woman impact pay equity. These influences overlap and intersect to determine the inequity of an individual's pay.

Our identity is actually a combination of multiple identities formed from our unique experiences. These identities intersect. The result is that we each are affected differently by the same set of circumstances such as pay inequity. Recognizing that each of our branch members, though alike in many ways, is a combination of unique experiences and perspectives will help us as a branch in taking DEI action steps in our planning.

Pat Dudley,
Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Officer

INFORMATION FROM CALIFORNIA AAUW MEMBERSHIP

Many of our members have this current mindset about membership and leadership in AAUW.

WE'RE OLD - WE'RE BURNED OUT - WE'RE UNKNOWN

This is the new mindset we want to project.

WE ARE VIBRANT AND SMART! – WE ARE ACTION PEOPLE!

WE ARE AMBASSADORS!

THINK ABOUT IT AND GO FOR IT!!!

Included in this newsletter for your use is an application for membership, a questionnaire we would like to have completed by all members, and a flyer about the December fundraiser at Really Great Stuff.

Think about inviting that newly retired relative or friend to our next branch meeting.

MYRA LONG SCHOLARSHIP FUND (MLSF)

The MLSF committee announced that two grants to two teachers were distributed: one for approximately $340 for safety equipment and charging stations and one for approximately $846 for a school trip.

After the teacher was notified that she would be given the grant for safety equipment and charging stations we received the following note.

"I am writing you ...regarding the logistics of funding my MLSF grant for Science classroom supplies.

I have earned free shipping, and the final cost of the items comes to $346.15, including tax. If it is possible, I'd like to place the order for materials on Amazon, as it will provide the fastest service.

I'm so excited! I will wait to hear from you before I place the order. I don't really have a timeline under which I must receive reimbursement. I guess it would be at your convenience.

Thank you all so much. I do so appreciate your support. Let me know if I have missed any relevant details in this communication."

Have a wonderful afternoon.

"Oh wow! Thank you so much! I'll go ahead and place the order. When I told one of my classes what was afoot, one boy went, "YESSSSSSS!" He Never brings his iPad, but sure was excited to charge it! Who knows!?"

SPOTLIGHT

Dolores Seidman recently touched base with Jill Smith, AAUW Life Member and a long-time member who was active in the GWA Branch for years serving as President from 2002-2004. Since she moved to Colorado to be near her family in August of 2011, she has continued her branch membership in GWA as a dual member. Now a member of the Littleton-South Metro Branch in Colorado which has about 100 members she is the Membership V.P. of her branch as well as starting her second two-year term as state membership V.P. Soon she will step up as Co-President of AAUW of Colorado. We are proud of Jill's accomplishments and pleased that she maintains her connection with us.

Nadine Wilcox visited Europe for the first time in October with a friend. She reports all did not go as planned. “We were signed up for the Viking River Cruise “Cities of Light”. The trip started in Prague and ended in Paris. It sounded lovely. On the day before we were to start the tour from Prague, travel to historic Nuremberg, and then board the ship, my travel companion developed COVID. Needless to say, we were barred from joining the travel group and had to stay in Prague in our shared hotel room through the 7-day isolation required by the Czech Republic. A Viking Covid Team liaison of two wonderful women contacted us each day by phone, text, or email. My friend was acutely ill for three days but recovered OK. As long as I remained negative, I was allowed to take walks in Prague wearing a mask. Finally, when the isolation period was over, we flew home on October 21. It was an experience. I have to put a positive spin on it to survive the inconvenience and disappointment. We had 2 days Covid free, and I tried to enjoy my walks in the city by myself. At least I was able to get to Europe, and see Prague! Lesson learned: have a positive attitude and BUY Travel Insurance.”

Nadine Wilcox asks; “Anyone interested in getting together to do NEEDLEWORK and socialize over coffee, tea, other beverages/snacks? Small table in my kitchen and/or living room may accommodate four participants comfortably in either area depending on size of projects, and grouping of people beyond four. My home is a home that also has a cat and a dog present (indoor cat, dog is in and out according to my son). So if you are allergic to either come dosed with your medication or sadly don't consider joining :-/). Any type of needlework aficionado may respond, as long as needlework is portable and doesn't take up too much room in work areas available! Small group is fine. Weekdays mornings or afternoons, or weekends.

We all love to hear about what is happening in the lives of our AAUW community. Spotlight is a great place to share your news, tips, and stories. Send me yours so I can include them in our next newsletter.
